FROM THE SECRETARY & CEO'S DESK

"Success is a journey, not a destination."

Dear Students,

Success is a journey not a destination. Once you successfully achieve a particular goal, it is just a mile stone in your journey towards many more successes. But how should we move on to path of successive successes? Discover your true potential, realise it and proceed with missionary zeal.

If you read the biographies of some of the most successful people in the history of mankind, you would find one remarkable feature in all of them. The success was deeply ingrained in their attitude. The success that they achieved during their life was due to their untiring efforts, futuristic thinking and their efforts aimed at relearning and unlearning.

H W Longfellow said, "The heights the great men reached and kept were not attained by sudden flight. But they, while their companions slept, were toiling upward in the night." Their patience, perseverance and passion for excellence have a strong message - aptly articulated by Longfellow.

To develop a habit to succeed in what ever you do, you need "success stimulant". Identify your potential, skills and the other capabilities you are good at. Write out your goals, list out the skills, required to attain those goals. Make an analysis of your strengths and weaknesses. Polish your strengths and make sincere attempts to overcome your weaknesses. Take the help of your peers, seniors, parents, mentors, teachers or any body you are comfortable with. Once you complete the process with reasonable ease, act independently to build upon your confidence.

The results of the CS Examinations are declared twice a year on 25 February and 25 August. I can see both happy faces as well as not so happy faces of students from my office window on these dates. These are the faces of the students who have passed the CS exams and those who could not make it. Those who failed for whatever reasons, I always advise them to make a self assessment on "What went wrong?"

Failure is just one temporary stop on your way to success. Always remember the invention of electric bulb. The inventor Edison, had failed a thousand times before successfully inventing the electric bulb - bringing the light to the world. "The difference between failure and success is doing a thing nearly right and doing a thing exactly right."

So dear students, never give up, the success is always a step closer with each failure. I wish you all success in your endeavours.

Given below are some important information which would be useful to you as a student of the CS Foundation Course.

Growth in emerging economy remain strong, while advanced countries are growing slowly and facing uncertainty with large fiscal deficit and high public debt and unemployment levels.

- Robust growth and steady fiscal consolidation have been the hallmark of Indian economy in the year 2010-11 so far.

- Six core industries registered a growth of 5.3 per cent (provisional) in April-December 2010 as against 4.7 per cent during the same period in 2009-2010.

- The role of services sector as the potential growth engine has called for the policy to promote further opportunities in new areas in global demand such as accounting, legal, tourism, education, financial and other services beyond the IT and business process sectors.

- Exports in April-December 2010 went up by 29.5 per cent while import during the same period registered a growth rate of 19 per cent.

- There is call for reforms in university and higher education and correcting the demand supply mis-match in the job market.

- There is need for government's active engagement on issues related to climate change with expanded financing of programme and better policies.

- Economic Survey has suggested that in the long run the potential engine of growth for the country could be from skill development innovative activity and therefore efforts should be made to promote them.

- Regarding the outlook of Indian Economy, the survey states that despite the risk of global events such as volatility in commodity prices like crude oil exacerbated by political turmoil in the Middle - East, the Indian economy seems poised to scale greater heights in terms of macro economic indicators. It sums up stating that real GDP growth is expected to reach the 9 per cent mark in 2011-12 and the next two decades may well see the economy growing faster than it has done any time in the past.

ENGLISH AND BUSINESS COMMUNICATION

WHAT ARE TENSES[2]

Let's take up an interesting topic of grammar which is Tenses. Usually most of the students don't completely understand tenses and their usage. The base of tenses' start during school days and if your base was not strong that time, then you can still learn them here in this write up.

In simple terms and as given in the study material, tenses are a set of forms taken by a verb to indicate the time of the actions in relation to the time of the utterance. The word "tense" comes from the Latin word "tempus", which means "time".

One of the simplest meanings of tenses that anyone can give is that tenses have to do with something of the time of the sentence and that there are three tenses i.e. present, past and future.

Tenses refers to a grammatical form, or system of forms, whose primary function is to refer to a point in time However, it may be noted that while pointing to a time is the primary function of tense, it is not the only function. Further, this function doesn't involve every possible aspect of time, only reference to basic points in time.

Tenses can be divided into 12 types:

1. Present
2. Past
3. Future
4. Present Progressive
5. Past Progressive
6. Future Progressive
7. Present Perfect
8. Past Perfect
9. Future Perfect
10. Present Perfect Progressive
11. Past Perfect Progressive
12. Future Perfect Progressive

They are explained below with examples:

1. Present: It is a form of the verb which shows that the action takes place in the present.

    For Example: Radha dances everyday

2. Past: It is a form of the verb which shows that action took place in the past.

    For Example: Radha danced yesterday

3. Future: It is a form of the verb which shows that the action will take place in the future.

    For Example: Radha will dance tomorrow

4. Present Progressive: It is a form of the verb which shows that action is in progress in the present.

    For Example: Radha is dancing right now.

5. Past Progressive: It is a form of the verb which shows that action was in progress at some time in the past.

    For Example: Radha was dancing yesterday at 8 o'clock

6. Future Progressive: It is a form of the verb which shows that action will be in progress at some time in future.

    For Example: Radha will be dancing tomorrow at 8 o'clock.

7. Present Perfect: It is a form of the verb which shows that the action was complete before the present.

    For Example: Radha has already danced.

8. Past Perfect: It is a form of the verb which shows that action was complete before some time in the past

    For Example: Radha had danced before she came.

9. Future Perfect: It is a form of the verb which shows that action will be complete before some time in future.

    For Example: Radha will have danced tomorrow by 9 o'clock.

10. Present Perfect Progressive: It is a form of the verb which shows that the action started in the past and continued until the present

    For Example: Radha has been dancing for 3 hours without stopping!

2 Prepared by Shruti B. Gupta, Assistant Education Officer under the guidance of Archana Kaul, Assistant Director, The ICSI

11. Past Perfect Progressive: It is a form of the verb which shows that the action started in the past and continued until some point in the past.

   For Example: Radha had been dancing for 2 hours before she was tired

12. Future Perfect Progressive: It is a form of the verb that shows the action will continue until some point in the future.

   For Example: By tomorrow morning, Radha will have been dancing for 12 hours!
